STINGERS AND MCGILL IN DOUBLEHEADER

This Friday evening (October 15th) the Concordia Stingers and McGill Redmen will hook up in an important doubleheader. No, Concordia and McGill haven't started playing baseball! In fact the games won't even be played in the same location, but they will be close, so that fans can see both.

At 4 p.m. on the Loyola Campus of Concordia University, the Men's Soccer team hosts McGill Redmen in what is shaping up to be a show down for first place in the Q.U.A.A.. Concordia is currently ranked fourth nationally, but earlier in the season had to scramble back from a two-goal deficit late in the game, to tie the Redmen 3-3 at Molson Stadium.

At 7:30 p.m., up the hill at Molson Stadium, the Football Stingers face arch-rival McGill in the annual Centraide game. Last year, over 6,000 fans were on hand for the inaugural Charity Classic. Proceeds from the game will go to the Centraide campaign.

Earlier this year, McGill downed the Stingers 21-8 at Concordia. In fact, McGill has beaten Concordia eight straight over the past five years, a streak Stinger head coach Skip Rochette would like to halt on Friday.

HOCKEY STINGERS HEAD NORTH

In hockey, Concordia makes its first of three trips to Northern Quebec. On Friday at 9 p.m., the Stingers face the Chicoutimi Inuks in their new home at La Baie, and on Saturday (October 16th) at 2 p.m. Concordia meets the Laval Rouge et Or in Quebec City.
